

Wayfinding Signs Announcements

Notice some new signs in the area? Those blue signs are called wayfinding signs and can be used to help you on your journey to school! Next time you walk or wheel to school let them guide your way.

Active transportation to school is good for your body, mind, and the environment. With the new blue wayfinding signs telling you how far away from school you are, it's easier than ever to walk or wheel to school!

The new school year is a great time to get into new habits! Let the new wayfinding signs in your neighborhood make getting into the habit of walking or wheeling to school easier! They help to build community awareness of the school zone and let you, as pedestrians or cyclists, know how far from school you are!
